What would you like your child or young person, aged 0-25, to be able to access as part of their short breaks or care package?

Liam Roberts and David Millen from Sutton's commissioning team want to listen to your ideas and find out what services and activities you would like your child to access as part of their short breaks package including respite care for young people.

Annie Henley-Ashton who supports Adults with Learning Disabilities, age 25+, will be explaining the pathway and services for those young people who are moving to be supported by her team

We will also be joined by the Team Managers from Sutton's Children and Young People's Disability Service (CYPDS)

They will be able to answer questions about short breaks and will be explaining what happens when they are contacted by Cognus for input to the Education, Health and Care Needs Assessment for your child.

The session will end by 12 but all the professionals are happy to meet with parents individually from 12-1. If you would like to book a ten minute appointment please contact us using the details below:
